I arrived in the UK last weekend to learn English. So far I have already made a few friends and had some traditional English food there. But after having three days of hamburgers, sandwiches and potatoes, I thought none could be more delicious than Chinese food, especially my favorite —huo guo. You can't imagine how excited I was when I got to know that there was going to be a free meal of hotpot to welcome the new students. On the way to the canteen, I seemed to smell huo guo in the air.

To my surprise, when I stepped into the room, I didn't see any sign of huo guo. Where was it?

With many questions in my head, I sat down to have the free meal. After talking with an English girl, I got to know that Chinese huo guo is completely different from hotpot. Chinese huo guo is written in two words-hot pot; and hotpot, one word, is a traditional English dish.

Hotpot is made from mutton and onion. On the top are pieces of potatoes. People put it in the oven all day in a heavy pot on a low heat. It takes very little effort to prepare. You can often see it at parties in the UK because it's easy to prepare for a large number of people and is not expensive.

Hotpot doesn't taste bad. However, I still miss huo guo-hot pot, two words!

2016 is the Year of the Monkey. Monkeys are so smart and cute, and so many people like them. They have become a part of culture. Here are some stories to help you learn more about them.

New stamps for the year

The China Post Group made special stamps for the year. They made two styles. On the first one, a monkey hangs on a branch (树枝), holding a big red peach. This means to give luck to people. On the other stamp, a mother monkey holds two monkey babies in her arms. It shows the happy reunion (团聚) of families. The monkey stamps were for sale on Jan.5th.

Monkey show

In China, there is an ancient drama called Monkey Show. It tells the story of Monkey King. When actors perform, they will paint "monkey faces" with colors. Red is the main color. Interestingly, they don't draw eyebrows (眉毛).

Influence on personality

In Chinese culture, the monkey is a symbol of wisdom. Those who were born in the Year of the Monkey are said to be smart and outgoing. They are also said to have strong leadership and social skills. They can solve all kinds of problems in life and be kind to others.

Fun Fact

Did you know? The world's smallest monkey is the finger monkey. It is only 10cm tall. They live in the Amazon rainforest (亚马逊雨林) of South America. Amazingly, they can turn their heads 180 degrees.

40. Which of the following stamp means "the happy reunion of families"?

Δ

41. Which of the following is TRUE according to the passage?

A. Actors learn how to paint "monkey faces" from Monkey Show.

B. Those born in the Year of the Monkey are thought to be friendly.

C . Stories about the Year of the Monkey is the culture of many countries.

D. The finger monkey which is 180cm tall is the smallest in the world.

Fraser Island is in Queensland, Australia, about 200 kilometers north of Brisbane. It is about 120 kilometers long and 240 kilometers wide. It is a very important island because it is completely made of sand. In fact, it is the largest sand island in the world. There is no airport on the island, but there is a long beach along the east coast. Planes arrive and leave from here.

The sand makes unusual shapes. There are hills made of sand called sandblows. Nothing grows on them. They move one or two meters a year from the northwest towards the southeast of the island, getting bigger and bigger. At other places on the island, such as Rainbow Gorge, The Cathedrals and Red Canyon, the sandy rocks have different colors. Sometimes the rocks are so brown that they turn the sea brown, like coffee.

Surprisingly, the sandy island has a lot of different plants and animals. There are dark forests—eucalyptus woods, beautiful flowers and over a hundred lakes. There are many kinds of birds, like owls and curlews. There are many animals there, too, such as crocodiles, flying foxes and wild dogs called dingoes.

About 500,000 people visit the island every year to see the island's beauty and nature. People enjoy camping and hiking (徒步) there. Unluckily, the visitors create problems. They damage plants and frighten animals. Their sun cream (防晒霜) makes the water dirty. So it is necessary to manage the visitors. For example, people may not use motor boats or go fishing in the lakes, and they need official papers to drive there.

43. The passage is mainly about
A. the shape of Fraser Island	B. nature on Fraser Island
C. the history of Fraser Island	D. daily life on Fraser Island
44. From Para.1 we know
A. how large Fraser Island is	B. Fraser Island is the largest island
C. many people live on Fraser Island	D. people will build an airport there
45. The underlined word "They" in Para. 2 refers to (指) the
A. unusual shapes B. sandy hil	ls C. sandy rocks D. different plants
46. From the 3 rd paragraph we can infer (推断) that is a kind of plant.
A. eucalyptus B. owl	C. curlew D. dingo
47. Visitors may not be allowed to on Fraser Island soon.
A. camp and hike	B. go fishing in the sea
C. wear sun cream	D. drive without official papers

There was a man who had four sons. He wanted his sons to learn not to judge things too quickly. So he sent them to go and look at a pear tree far away in turns.

The first son went in the winter, the second in the spring, the third in summer, and the youngest son in the fall.

When they had all gone and come back, he called them together to describe what they had seen.

The first son said that the tree was ugly. The second son said no; it was covered with green leaves, and full of hope. The third son disagreed. He said there were many flowers that smelled so sweet and looked so beautiful, it was the most wonderful thing he had ever seen. The last son disagreed with all of them, he said there was lots of fruit in the tree, full of life and harvest (收获).

The man then explained to his sons that they were all right, but they had each seen only one season in the tree's life. He told them "You cannot judge a tree, or a person by only one season and its true nature —the pleasure, joy, and love that come from that life can only be judged at the end, when all the seasons are up."

If you give up when it's winter, you will miss the promise of your spring, the beauty of your summer, harvest of your fall. Don't let the pain of one season kill the joy of all the rest. 1. Why did the man ask his sons to go and look at a pear tree in turns? (no more than 15 words)

- 2. Did the four sons have the same answer? (no more than 5 words)
- 3. What did the man think about his sons' answers? (no more than 20 words)
